

What's New With ORB 2.0

Award Leaders

- To log into the new ORB, head to 'www.onlinerecordbook.org'.
- Enter your login information (email address, and password) into the appropriate fields on the left hand side of the screen.
- Hit the 'Login' button.
- You might be prompted to fill in missing information like:
 - Your birthday
 - Your mailing address
 - Your contact information
- Your participants might be prompted to fill-in missing information when they log-in to ORB 2.0 for the first time. In particular, your participants should have the following information on hand:
 - The names of their assessors
 - Their assessors' email addresses
 - A phone number for their account's profile page that their Award Leader can reach them at.
- There is a new algorithm that is much more flexible when calculating percentages, however it still requires consistency. One hour a week up to four hours every four weeks.
- ORB 2.0 has simplified many things- Award Leaders no longer have to click 'deeper' into the system to find information.
- The 'menu' on the left-hand side of the page will stay there regardless of what you click into.
- Some of the items, such as documents, assessor reports, or photos will now appear in pop-up windows. When the pop-up window is closed, Award Leaders will still be on the same page as before.
