

Adventurous Journey (AJ) Debriefing Report

In addition to finishing your Adventurous Journey in the Online Record Book, you must also complete an Adventurous Journey Report/Debrief as a team.

This isn't meant to be formal; it's your team's way of sharing what you did on the trip, how you prepared for it and what you learned. We want to know more about the adventure and what impacted your team!

Decide with your team and Assessor the format for your debrief (i.e., debrief template, team meeting, slideshow, video, blog, photobook, audio recording etc.) and whether it needs to be uploaded on the ORB. Your team may also choose to upload your planning guide, daily team logbook, pictures, etc. Simply share your awesome experiences – we're eager to hear all about it!

Practice Journey Debrief
An opportunity to change or modify your Qualifying Journey plans and details with your Supervisor. The debrief should be completed as soon as possible after your Practice Journey.
Team meeting with your Supervisor to review your Practice Journey.
Date of Debrief: 2024-08-10
Please note, the Supervisor is responsible for completing the assessment for the team's Practice Journey on the ORB.
	Notes:
What went well? What do you want to continue to see on the Qualifying Journey?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Walking for transportation proved to be a successful and enjoyable way to get around and allowed for physical activity and team bonding.- Attending the local Powwow and presentation provided an exciting and informative experience that helped us to learn more.- The hands-on practice of setting up sleeping mats and cooking helped prepare us for our QJ.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Creating a group playlist by researching artists and sharing songs at school was a fun and interactive activity that we would like to continue to do. - Attending the Indigenous Cultural Sensitivity Training beforehand helped with a successful cultural immersion and understanding.
What was challenging? (for individuals and the team)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Choosing songs for the playlist was tricky because everyone had different ideas, and we wanted it to be cool for everyone. - Cooking our own meal outside was a challenge since not everyone knew how to cook, especially over a fire. We ended up burning a few of our quesadillas.
Is there any other training or skills your team needs to safely complete the Qualifying Journey?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Improving communication during the cooking practice could make the process smoother and ensure everyone is on the same page for our QJ.
Any other comments or notes?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Use a collaborative playlist platform like Spotify so everyone can add their favorite songs.

Qualifying Journey Debrief

An opportunity to review the Qualifying Journey with your team and Assessor to learn more from the experience. Talk to your Assessor and team about how you will complete your Adventurous Journey Debriefing Report and submit it. Your Adventurous Journey Debriefing Report will need to be submitted to your Assessor before they can complete the Assessor Report on the ORB. The debrief should be completed as soon as possible after your Qualifying Journey.

Team meeting with your Assessor to review your Qualifying Journey.

Date of Debrief: 2024-08-15

Please note, the Assessor is responsible for completing the Assessor Report for the team's Qualifying Journey on the ORB.

Notes:
What did you do?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Went to a local Indigenous Craft Market and Mi'kmaq Drumming and Cultural Circle. - Spoke to local Indigenous artists and participated in activities. - Camped overnight in our school gym. - Cook for ourselves outside in our school field using a camp stove. - Created a playlist featuring Indigenous artists.
What went well? What are you proud of?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - After using Spotify, the process of creating a playlist was more successful. We ended up creating an awesome playlist to share with our friends! - We successfully cooked our meals together, and it tasted really good! - Everyone enjoyed the experience and felt like we knew much more about understanding and appreciating Indigenous Cultures after our journey.
What was challenging? (for individuals and the team)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - It was a bit tricky making sure everyone remembered to bring 1-2 non-perishable food items for the Indigenous Craft Market. - Chatting with Indigenous vendors was a bit nerve-racking because we wanted to ask questions and learn, but it felt a little scary at first to put ourselves out there. - Staying energetic throughout the journey was a bit tough, especially with all the walking and activities, but we kept cheering each other on.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Some sleeping mats were quite thin and felt slightly uncomfortable against the hard gymnasium floor.
Did you accomplish your team goal?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Together, we created a playlist featuring Indigenous artists, combining all our musical tastes into a unique and enjoyable compilation to share with our classmates. - We all successfully stayed overnight and cooked for ourselves.
What would you do differently for future journeys?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Attend different Indigenous Culture events throughout Corner Brook. - Bring extra padding for the sleeping mats. - Bring extras of the food items we planned to make in case something goes wrong, since we burned some of our quesadillas.
What stood out? What did you learn? What are your take-aways from this experience?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The entire journey helped us know more about local Indigenous practices, and the playlist we created is a cool way to share what we've learned with our classmates, making the whole experience unforgettable. - Creating a playlist featuring Indigenous artists as a team was special because it showcased our diverse music tastes and taught us the value of collaboration and compromise. - The outdoor cooking adventure in our school field was exciting, and we learned that cooking together can be fun and challenging but totally worth it.
